The RamperPro will get App support at the end of May. The next firmware update will make it possible for you to watch the progress of your shoot on your smart phone, tablet or laptop. You can setup the RamperPro in the field and watch your images from your warm car. No need to checkout the RamperPros' touch screen when you use this new feature. The data will be made available via WiFi. Just add a very cheap USB WiFi dongle to your RamperPro and you are fully set. This also makes it possible to review your images on a much larger screen at full resolution.

Here is a preliminary screen shot of how this will look. We are fine tuning a few things, but this is all working in our test setup now. Remember that this is just the very first version of this very exciting feature. We will continually improve the dashboard
